Maxfire 115 for sale in excellent condition(installed in our Great room). It is black with Gold door trim. It comes with two extra new never installed ignitors(original ones are still working fine), material for two new loop wheel seals,USB cable for Bixcheck and a bonus which is a Cougar model MU 405 Love-Less Ash Co sweeper and attractive tile hearth pad
. Convection fan bearings have been replaced. This stove has not been used hard since I run on #4 most of the time and no more than #6. Purchased in 06. Has current software in it and I installed a new ash tray gasket. Also comes with a thermostat so it can cycle on and off automatically to save fuel. I live in Ravenna, Ohio and you can email me at skleski@neo.rr.com or call or text to 330.802.4400 for pictures or further info or questions. You can see it in action until late spring and then I am going to remove it and place it in my barn. My wife and I are going to sell and move south to be closer to my son and his family. If you want a good stove that has been well maintained this it.

Asking price is $795.00 OBO

Thanks-its been fun

Steve

You've contributed meaningfully to this forum, so I Will be sorry to see you go, Steve. Wishing you all the best in your new ventures and in your sales. From your discussions, I know that you took excellent care of your stove. You've even cut out a little access hatch for the trim pots. Someone will be getting an excellent deal.

Thanks for all of your kind words. Corny, you have been an invaluable source on this forum for many years. Always there to help and nonjudgmental about any problem a fellow Bixby burner might have.

Blume, I know you have saved many on this forum with your knowledge and repair capability and parts always available to do your best to help anyone who needs it.

Dolarbill, I have read your post and you have always jumped in there in the thick of it trying your best to solve problems that others have with their stoves.

For any one who reads this thread-these people are the backbone of this forum. They are always here to help you.

Good luck to all of you and all the fellow burners out there. I will pop in occasionally to see how you are doing.

If anyone out there needs a stove contact me and make me an offer that fits your budjet.
